

BROOKS AUTOMATION ANNOUNCES TRANSITION OF SAMPLE MANAGEMENT LEADERSHIP

CHELMSFORD, Mass., Sept. 6, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Brooks Automation, Inc. (Nasdaq: BRKS) announced today that Dusty Tenney, President Sample Management, will be leaving Brooks effective September 6, 2019.

"We are deeply appreciative of the contributions Dusty has made to the Sample Management business since joining Brooks in 2014," said Steve Schwartz, President and CEO. "Dusty has led a four-fold increase in Life Science revenue, taken the Sample Management business to profitability, and established a new threshold for Sample Management which we plan to aggressively build going forward. Our employees, the entire management team and board of directors all thank Dusty for his leadership and guidance."

Schwartz continued, "With what has been accomplished, we are now focused on transitioning this business to the next phase of operational execution and commercial growth capability to address the multiple opportunities in the growing sample management markets."

During this transition phase of the Sample Management expansion, Steve Schwartz will assume responsibilities as the leader of the business unit.
